

Shopping in Scotland.
The Scotch have their own idea of a "bargain day," and their view is not without a touch of shrewdness. A London paper describes a conversation between an English matron and Mr. Angus McIver.
"I suppose, Mr. McIver," said she, "that they have bargain days in Glasgow?"
"A conscience, no! It was a do-ava!"
"Indeed!" replied the lady. "Why, I thought bargain days would just suit your people!"
"Well," said he, "that's just it. It was just them over well. If they had bargain days, nobody would buy anything on the other days, ye ken!"

To Spare Her Pain.
Some of the "things one would rather have left unsaid" are really inspired by kindness of heart. In a case of slander, says the Green Bag, a lady had taken the stand in behalf of the plaintiff, whose attorney was examining her.
"Now, madam," he began, "repeat the slanderous statements made by the defendant, on this occasion."
"Oh, they are unfit for any respectable person to hear!" was the emphatic answer.
Then," said the attorney, coaxingly, "you just whisper them to the judge."

Binoculars at Banquets.
The Prince of Wales inaugurated a custom at a recent banquet which may become popular at large public dinners, where the guests are so numerous and so far apart that they can scarcely recognize each other. With his coffee and cigars, the Prince's special attendant brought him a huge pair of field glasses, with which he carefully scrutinized the long table and the galaxy of bejeweled women who filled the balconies. Megaphones will be next in order.—New York Home Journal.

On Different Grounds.
The term "help," meaning household or outside assistants engaged for short periods, occurs in the Massachusetts records of 1645, where help and servants are treated as separate, the latter being inferior. A "servant" in those days was not sui juris; "help" stood on different ground, and the distinction is still felt, however faintly. "Help" meant a free person, "servant" did not.

OVARIAN TROUBLES.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Cures Them—Two Letters from Women.
"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I write to tell you of the good Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done me. I was sick in bed about five weeks. The right side of my abdomen pained me and was so swollen and sore that I could not walk. The doctor told my husband I would have to undergo an operation. This I refused to do until I had given your medicine a trial. Before I had taken one bottle the swelling began to disappear. I continued to use your medicine until the swelling was entirely gone. When the doctor came he was very much surprised to see me so much better."—MRS. MARY SMITH, Arlington, Iowa.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I was sick for two years with falling of the womb, and inflammation of the ovaries and bladder. I was bloated very badly. My left limb would swell so I could not step on my foot. I had such bearing down pains I could not straighten up or walk across the room and such shooting pains would go through me that I thought I could not stand it. My mother got me a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and told me to try it. I took six bottles and now, thanks to your wonderful medicine, I am a well woman."—MRS. ELSIE BRYAN, Otisville, Mich.

OLDEST LABOR UNION.
Chicago Typographical Union No. 16 Reaching Its Half-Century Mark.
The oldest labor body in Chicago is Typographical Union No. 16. It is now reaching its half-century mark, and never was more prosperous than at present. The union has established the nine hour day with the rate formerly prevailing for 10 hours. Disputes the past year have been infrequent and of little consequence, while employment of the members has been the best since the introduction of the linotypes.
The new President of the union is Michael Colbert. He is a native of the Empire State, first engaging in printing in Oswego in 1870. In 1880 Mr. Colbert joined Chicago Typographical Union, and has performed many substantial services for the organization in that time, representing the union at the Kansas City convention of the International Union in 1888, where his ability was recognized by his fellow delegates. Mr. Colbert has had a unique experience in running for office, close votes being a feature of his canvasses. In 1884 he was defeated for Vice President by two votes. In 1894 for delegate by four votes, while last year he lost the Presidency by a margin of but one vote. Mr. Colbert is a member of several fraternal societies and has filled many stations of responsibility in them. He is recognized as a sincere and conscientious worker in the cause of unionism.

HE GOT A LESSON IN SPANISH.

Chicago Student Who Has Mastered the Mystery of the "J."
One of the students of the University of Chicago went to a restaurant on Jackson street a few days ago with two friends who had fought with the First Regiment at Santiago. Naturally they talked of the war, and although the student showed considerable knowledge of the campaign, his pronunciation of the Spanish proper names was bad. Invariably he gave the Spanish "J" its English sound.
His companions, who were better posted on the Castilian tongue, stood it as long as they could, and finally one of them said: "See here, if you want to talk war with us you must pronounce those Spanish words as they should be. Say 'San Juan' and 'Monte', and remember that 'Hunta' is proper. Don't give the words the 'J' sound. There is no 'J.' It's pronounced 'H'—always."
"Oh, is it?" returned the student with a sneer of sarcasm, for he was getting angry. "Then I suppose your name is 'Hohn,' not 'John,' as it used to be before you went to Cuba; and perhaps you want me to tell you that this restaurant is on 'Hackson' street."
The derisive laugh that followed so angered the student that he leaped to his feet.
"I want you to understand," he shouted, "that I am a gentleman! Hump onto me, you hucksters and I'll show you this is no hoking matter. By theumping Hesusalem, you haven't any more sense than a backslab! If you insinuate that I'm a country hake, I'll oreak your haw. By Huhny, I'm ting."

And the indignant student put on his hat and stalked out—Chicago Inter Ocean.

What an English Soldier Costs.
Small as the British army is, it costs more than the much larger one of Austria, for the British war budget for 1899 amounts to £20,000,000, the Austrian to £14,200,000. Compared with those of other countries it will be found that the British army is by far the most expensive.
Cost of maintaining per man:

| | | | |
|---------|----|---|---|
| Russia | 48 | 0 | 0 |
| Germany | 54 | 3 | 0 |
| France | 45 | 0 | 0 |
| Austria | 43 | 0 | 0 |
| Italy | 41 | 8 | 0 |
| England | 77 | 0 | 0 |

These figures show that the individual British soldier costs twice as much as the Italian or Austrian—London Morningstar Review.

KNOWN BY THEIR TUNES.
A Boss Carpenter's Queer Way of Selecting His Workmen.
"Talking about the queer ways some people have of sizing up a man's capabilities for a job," said a resident of Paterson, N. J., to a Washington Star reporter the other day, "there recently died in my town a boss carpenter named Hebart, who had one question which he always asked of journeymen who applied to him for employment. If the applicant was found to possess all the other necessary qualifications Hebart would ask:
"What are your favorite tunes?"
"Why, what do you want to know that for?"
"You whistle and sing some at your work don't you?"
"Oh, yes."
"Well, what tunes do you generally whistle or sing?"
"Oh, there's 'Old Hundred' and 'Auld Lang Syne' and 'Down by the Weeping Willows' and—"
"That's enough!" the boss would exclaim. "You won't do for me. These tunes are too slow for me. Good-day."
On the contrary, if the applicant answered "Oh, I generally whistle 'Yankee Doodle' or 'The Fisher's Hornpipe,' or something of that sort," the carpenter would say at once:
"I think you'll do! Take off your coat if you want to and go to work."

A Poetic Hangman.
In his recently published "Recollections" Sir Algernon West tells a story of Marwood, the executioner, who preceded Billington, which will bear retelling. One of the officials at the colonial office had occasion to consult Marwood as to the most rapid way of putting a man out of existence. Marwood expressed himself in favor of what he professionally called "the long drop," and drove home his argument by remarking: "There was a Mr. Peace, now, a small man; I gave him a six-foot drop, and I haesue you, sir, he passed haff like a summer heve."—Collier's Weekly.

Why It Was Brave.
We read in the Book of Proverbs: "A soft answer turneth away wrath." It is also true that a witty reply often takes the edge from an unwelcome criticism, as in the following instance from the Chicago Post:
A friendly magazine editor was talking in pleasant but critical mood to a contributor. He said: "It seems to me you use a faulty figure of speech when you say a 'brave old heartstone.' How can a heartstone be brave?"
"Well, sir," said the contributor, "the one I am writing about has been under fire for nearly forty years without flinching."
